

NORTH SHORE, OAHU, HI (2004)--The newly renovated Turtle Bay Resort on the dramatic North Shore of Oahu offers a Kama`aina Getaway that gives local residents an escape to the one of the most spectacular settings in Hawaii.

After a $60 million renovation, the Turtle Bay Resort offers beautiful rooms with spectacular ocean views, intimate dining in 21 Degrees North overlooking the sunset on Turtle Bay and 880 acres of private resort lands with hidden coves, walking trails and pristine beaches.

Activities abound--spa treatments at the new Spa Luana, tennis and world-class golf on the Palmer and Fazio courses, horseback riding at the resort's private stables, lounging at the swimming pools or on the quiet beach, snorkeling, 12 miles of trails for walking or jogging and five miles of beachfront where there is scarcely a footprint in the sand.

And, of course, there is the legendary surfing of Oahu's North Shore. Guests may enjoy the sport as observers from afar or jump right in and take a lesson for two from the famous Hans Hedemann Surf School, located on the resort.

Romance can be shared during intimate candlelight dining in 21 Degrees North, where the chef prepares such delights as Pineapple-Guava Glazed Baby Back Ribs or Crab and Coconut Crusted Sea Bass. Outdoor dining may be easily arranged, overlooking the resort pools, magnificent Turtle Bay itself and the setting sun. More casual dining and sumptuous buffets are found in the Palm Terrace, while Hang Ten and the Sand Bar offer burgers and snacks along the coast of Turtle Bay.

,br> The Turtle Bay Resort North Shore Kama`aina Getaway is priced at $699 for two nights, double occupancy, Sunday through Thursday nights and $799, double occupancy for a Friday-Saturday night stay.
