Press Release

Turtle Bay Golf Launches Caddy Program

NORTH SHORE, OAHU, HI (December 6, 2006) Beginning Saturday, December 9th, Turtle Bay Golf will now offer Golf Caddies for both the Arnold Palmer Course and the George Fazio Course. Matthew Hall, PGA Director of Golf at Turtle Bay says "We created our caddy program for several reasons. For our customers, it is the ultimate way to play golf. Walking with a caddy who knows the course is something every golfer should treat themselves to. For our community on the North Shore, this program gets young people interested in the game of golf and it allows them to learn and develop the many skills that are involved with caddying. Also, anyone who caddies for a period of two years will be eligible for an Evans Scholar Caddy Scholarship, a national non-profit organization designed to offer scholarship to caddies all over the country. This is a great program and it is a good income opportunity. "

Turtle Bay's two courses offer a very easy and enjoyable opportunity for golfers to walk and enjoy the natural beauty of the North Shore. The caddies will assist with yardage, green reading, club cleaning, local course knowledge, and points of interest about the North Shore and Turtle Bay.

"For a nominal fee, guests can enjoy our courses the same way the worlds best touring professionals do when they compete in our annual Champions Tour and LPGA events" says, Kevin Carll, PGA Head Professional for the George Fazio Course and resident Caddy Master.

The Caddies will be available by appointment seven days a week. Turtle Bay will have several caddies standing by on the weekends for golfers who would like to hire one for that day of play.
